

HOLZHAY LEAVES PRISON WALLS

Release Once Desperate Out- law After Many Year's Of Confinement

After having spent twenty-four years of a life term behind the bars of the Northern Michigan penitentiary, in Marquette, Edmund Holzhay—called "Black Bart" from the resemblance between his operations and those of a notorious western desperado—has been released from prison. Some months ago Holzhay underwent an operation for the removal of a bone splinter pressing on the brain and as a result is said to have recovered from his criminal tendencies.

For four months in 1889 Holzhay terrorized middle and northern Wisconsin by a series of bold robberies. His first appearance in the limelight was when he held up a stage coach near Shawano. A second stage robbery followed in a few days. Then a train on the Wisconsin Central railway was robbed near Cadott. Next he appeared at Ellis Junction where a passenger train was held up.

Late that summer a stage was held up near Gogebic lake, in northern Michigan. A Minneapolis banker was shot dead and an Oshkosh man who was driving the stage and a third man were shot. The passengers were robbed. The highwayman who escaped, was recognized as Holzhay.

Large rewards were offered for the arrest of the holdup man. Holzhay was convicted of murder and sentenced to life. In an attempt to escape from prison he was shot.

SMITH-DELOSH BOUT

May Arrange Match Between Colored Boy And Michigan Pug

Burrell Smith, the colored middleweight who recently returned to Milwaukee from a tour in the south, may be matched to meet Eddie DeLosh of Grand Rapids, Mich., in this city some time in the near future. It is rumored that William Daniels is back of the movement to arrange a bout between these two men although the veteran promoter remains noncommittal on the subject.

Local followers of the boxing game will agree that a match between the dark boy and the Wolverine would be worth seeing and should get the money. Smith, it is understood, is expected to pay a visit to Rhinelander soon.

It is opined that a go between Smith and Perkins would prove equally as strong a drawing card as a Smith-De Losh bout. Perkins is at present in Annandale, Minn., visiting relatives.

MAY PLAY AT STATE FAIR

Louis Danner, manager of the Military band, has received a letter from the state fair officials in which it is stated that the Military band may be among the bands selected to furnish music at the state fair next September. The high quality of music rendered by the Military band has attracted the attention of others than Rhinelander people so it would appear. Only the best bands in Wisconsin are engaged for the state fair and the fact that the Military band is being considered by the officials is cause for elation among the band members.

HOME FROM GETTYSBURG

T. J. Owen, the only Rhinelander veteran, who attended the great reunion of the north and south on the historic Gettysburg battle ground, arrived home today. After the reunion Mr. Owen visited Washington D. C., and his birth place, Owego, N. Y., and had a pleasant trip. He says that the Gettysburg celebration was a success in every way and that he enjoyed every minute of his stay there. Many of his old war comrades were present and many were the happy hours spent in reminiscences. Mr. Owen remembered his Rhinelander friends with souvenirs of the encampment.

EIGHTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

Scandinavian Society Celebrates Sunday Afternoon

The members of the S. H. & E. F. of A. celebrated the eighteenth anniversary of the organization of the lodge in this city at the Scandinavian hall Sunday afternoon. A pleasing program of speeches, recitations and songs was given. This included several selections by the Varden society of singers.

The S. H. and E. F. of A. is one of the oldest and largest fraternal societies in Rhinelander. Each year marks an increase in its growth and enthusiasm among the members. The most prominent Scandinavians in the city are included in the membership.

REFORM SCHOOL FOR FIVE BOYS

Judge Walker Sentences Gang Of Youthful Outlaws To Waukesha

Five young boys, ranging in age from nine to sixteen years, were committed to the state reform school in Waukesha by Judge D. H. Walker, Monday. The boys were arrested by Chief of Police Straub on the charge of stealing brass headings for planing machines from the warehouse of the Conro Lumber company, breaking in to boat houses and removing goods of value and a list of similar offenses. The lads acknowledged their guilt in municipal court. They will remain in the industrial school until they are twenty-one years of age unless paroled.

The boys are Albert Reech, 16 years; Sanford and Willie Christian, 14 and 11 years respectively; Arthur Goulette, 12 years; Frankie Webb, 9 years.

For the last two years or more this gang of young outlaws has been causing trouble for Chief Straub and his men. The youngsters seem possessed of an unconquerable desire to commit theft and do other lawless depredations. They have been known to break into stores, ware houses and boat houses and carry off costly articles. Aside from entering the Conro warehouse the latest acts of the gang were breaking into the Arlington Hotel, the boat house of Henry Price and stealing camping equipment owned by H. L. Jewett.

Members of the gang have been arrested on previous occasions but owing to their tender ages and their promises to reform the court saw fit to suspend sentence. Their good intentions lasted only about as long as it took them to get out of Judge Walker's presence.

The last arrest of the boys convinced the court that to show them further leniency would be doing both themselves and the community an injustice. In the Waukesha institution they will be given an opportunity to learn some useful trade and may develop into good and honorable citizens.

The five young prisoners were taken to Waukesha on the Northwestern limited train Tuesday night by Sheriff Asmundsen and Officer John O'Brien.

SWEOPRATT

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Estella Catherine Sweo to George W. Pratt of Pellston, Mich., at St. Ambrose's parsonage in Ironwood, Tuesday evening. The bride has spent practically all her life in this city and was until recently a teacher in Oneida county.

Their many friends wish them happiness. They will visit in Michigan and will be at home after Sept. 15, in Victoria, B. C.

HOBSON TO CELEBRATE

A celebration marking the first anniversary of the village of Hobson will be held there July 26 all day and evening. There will be speeches, races and dancing. In the evening there will be a brilliant display of fireworks. The celebration will not doubt attract many Rhinelander people.

EDUCATION IN THE PHILIPPINES

James Madison, An Ex-Filipino Teacher, Writes On Little Brown Brothers

James Madison, a former teacher in the Philippine Islands, was in Rhinelander this week the guest of B. Mack Dresden, principal of the Oneida County Training School. For the benefit of New North readers Mr. Madison prepared the following interesting article on education in the Philippines. The subject is one which personal observation has caused him to be entirely familiar with:

Education in the Philippines does not progress as fast as is commonly supposed. When the U. S. attempted to educate the Filipino, it was forgotten that the Filipino did not have the same kind of a standard of taste as the white man. We did not know that the same things which please us had no attraction for the Oriental.

In the first place by nature the Filipino makes no provision for sickness or old age. He does not even provide for a whole day ahead. He gets up in the morning and begins to look for the raw material of his breakfast. This can be done because nature has been kind. There are no winters or cold weather to provide against; hence, he has never learned the art of providing—not even for a day.

It is hard to make the "little brown brother" understand the value of an education, because the utility side of it does not appeal to him. The American teacher must therefore be tactful and persistent in order to keep him at school at all. It does not follow that he is going to attend school tomorrow, because he did today. Kipling sized up the whole situation when he said:

"It does not agree with the American's To hustle the Philippine Brown,
The white man rifles the brown man's smiles
And he wreath the white man down.
And the end of the fight
Is a tomb stone bright
With the name of the late deceased
And the epitaph drear
A fool lies here
Who tried to hustle the East."

The Philippine Islands consist of an archipelago of many separate islands. The two largest have each an area about the same as that of the state of Maine. The population is nearly ten millions and the entire area nearly twice as large as Wisconsin. The native has not made much progress since the time when Magellan discovered the islands. He builds the same kind of a house which he built three centuries ago and in fact the only kind of a house which will ever be appropriate for that climate. The structure of a house is simple, being built of bamboo poles tied together with rattan and the roof covered with palm leaves, the wind blowing freely through. The pigs always occupy the space directly under the house and the chickens are kept in the house with the family. No beds are used but few houses have any furniture. Most of the cooking is done in Indian style in a kettle over an open fire, because stoves are practically unknown. Fish and rice are the staple articles of food and like the laws of the Medes and Persians the Philippine meal never varies.

NEW AUTO LAW

The new automobile bill which is before the governor for his signature forbids open mufflers in cities and villages, and reduces the speed limit in public parks, before school houses and other places where people congregate to eight miles an hour. Otherwise the speed limitations are left as at present at fifteen miles in towns and villages and twenty-five miles in the country.

One provision of the bill will not be liked in cities having street cars as automobiles are not compelled to stop when passing street cars as at present. Horns are only to be allowed to be used at danger signals.

TIMOTHY STARKS DEAD

Old And Well Known Resident Goes To His Reward.

Timothy Starks, a resident of Rhinelander for the last twelve years, passed away at 10:15 o'clock Thursday evening at his home at 25 E. Anderson street. While his death had been expected for some time the many friends of the old gentleman throughout the city received with deepest sorrow the sad announcement. For five years Mr. Starks had been in failing health and early last spring his condition became so serious that he was obliged to abandon work. For the last two months he was practically helpless. Although realizing that the end was near the aged patient bore his sufferings without complaint; his fortitude was remarkable. Cancer was the nature of his affliction.

Timothy Starks was born in St. Lawrence county, New York, and was 77 years of age June 18th, last. When a young man he came to Wisconsin, locating in Waupaca where for over half a century he made his home. There he was engaged in the nursery business and held a position with A. D. Barnes. In Plainfield 35 years ago Mr. Starks was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Handfield. To them was born two daughters, Mrs. Lottie Weston of this city, and Mrs. Cora McGill of Waupaca, who with their mother survive.

Mr. Starks was one of Rhinelander's highly regarded citizens. He was a man with a kind heart, always ready to aid a friend and had a good word for everyone. Former neighbors and friends in Waupaca, where deceased was numbered among the oldest residents, have sent messages of condolence to the widow and family. They also have the heartfelt sympathy of Rhinelander people. The funeral was held from the residence Saturday afternoon. Father J. M. Johnson of St. Augustine's church officiated. Mrs. F. C. Sawtell sang. The casket was covered with floral tributes which told of the esteem in which Mr. Starks had been held.

RANSACKS SUIT CASES

Sleeping Car Porter Looks For Some Easy Money

Alex Waddy, a porter on a Northwestern sleeping car running through this city, was arrested in Ashland a few days ago on complaint of the conductor who charged Waddy with going through the grips of passengers asleep on the car.

Waddy, it is alleged, entered the car which another porter had charge of and taking a suit case into his own car would ransack the contents in this way he thought to divert suspicion from himself. The conductor caught him in the act. The colored man was evidently in quest of money as he failed to take any articles from the grips.

The Ashland police did not push the case against Waddy but ordered him out of the city.

GETS GOOD POSITION

Elmer Schellenger Traveling Freight Agent For Pennsylvania

Elmer Schellenger, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schellenger of this city, who has been in the employ of the Pere-Marquette railway company in Milwaukee for several months past, has been appointed traveling freight agent in Wisconsin for the Pennsylvania lines. He will enter upon his new work August 1st. The position carries with it a substantial salary together with expense money.

Although young in years Mr. Schellenger is old in experience in railway work. He has been in the employ of the Soo line both in this city and in Gladstone, Mich., and has held various places from baggage master to bill clerk. He is well versed on the tariff and freight business which knowledge will be of untold service to him in his new position.

Mr. Schellenger's friends in Rhinelander congratulate him on his good fortune and hope that promotions will continue to come his way.

COMPANY L GETS 100 ON NEATNESS

Rhinelanders Guards Have The Cleanest Street and Tents At Camp

During the annual encampment of the Wisconsin National Guard at Camp Douglas last week the clean streets, neat tents and well kept equipment of Company L of this city attracted the attention of the officers and men of the other companies on the field. Each day Company L received a marking of 100 on general cleanliness.

One day a detail from the First Regiment was sent to inspect the first tent on Company L's street that the men might note the orderly condition of things and profit thereby. Words of commendation were heard on every side for the tidiness of the Rhinelander company.

The cooking department in charge of the Jacobson brothers, "Slim" and Oscar was conducted in a faultless manner. The boys kept their kitchen "spik and span" and dished up food which satisfied the most critical appetites of the company.

Company L returned from Camp Douglas in a special train over the Northwestern road Friday night. The week in camp was thoroughly enjoyed by the men and the work which they did while there proved of great value to them. Drills, marches, target practice and sham battles made up the week's program.

Captain D. H. Walker said that this year's encampment was one of the most successful since the company was organized.

ASHLAND WINS GAME FROM 598

Elk Teams Lock Horns On Chequamegon Bay Diamond Last Sunday

In Ashland Sunday the Rhinelander Elks (Conro's Champions) were defeated by the Ashland lodge team by a score of 9 to 5. Owing to a wet field the players were handicapped, but in spite of this the game was not badly played. The attendance was good, a delegation of 593 fans being present.

The Rhinelander Elks have nothing but the loudest praise for the hospitality extended them by the Ashland brothers. The beautiful clubhouse, one of the most luxurious in the state, was thrown open to the visitors who were not permitted to spend a cent. Auto rides, theater parties and receptions comprised the entertainment.

Cubs Are Victors

11 to 0 in favor of the Cubs was the result of the base ball game played in this city between the Cubs and the All Chicago Sunday afternoon. The game was a fair exhibition of the national sport and was witnessed by many enthusiastic fans. The All Chicago is a team composed of students from the Armour Institute who have for several weeks been in camp on Tomahawk Lake. They are a pleasant, gentlemanly set of young men and made a number of friends during their short stay in this city.

NOT PLEASED WITH WEST

Van Cadiaux, who early last spring went to Oregon with the intention of making that state his home, has returned to Rhinelander satisfied that the West has nothing on Wisconsin.

Mr. Cadiaux says that the coast is all right for a person who has money to invest but for the working man it is not as good as Wisconsin. Wages there are a little higher but the cost of living is greater.

J. C. LaPage, who went West with Mr. Cadiaux has a well paying position near Portland and will remain there.

TOMAHAWK CHAUTAUQUA

Interesting Program Has Been Arranged For Third Season

The Tomahawk Chautauqua will commence on Sunday, July 20, and continue during the week. An attractive program has been arranged, including the following: Herbert S. Bigelow of Ohio, Schildkret's Hungarian Orchestra, Bishop William A. Quayle, former senator W. E. Mason of Illinois, Father Dunn, Lincoln McConnell, Dr. George B. Safford, Col. Bob Seeds, Willmer and Bacon, entertainers, the Dr. Sadler and Miss Kellogg, the Chicago male quartet, the Mathews Concert Company, and last, but not least, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the near-discoverer of the north pole.

This is the third Chautauqua at Tomahawk, and indications are this will be as great a success as the two previously held.

EARL MCCAREY HAS SAD DEATH

Son Of B. W. McCarey Struck By Train In Chicago Railroad Yards

Friends in Rhinelander of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. McCarey will sympathize with them in the death of their son, Earl B., who was instantly killed by a train in Chicago, Saturday. The McCarey family formerly resided in this city. The Antigo Journal contains this account of the sad accident:

Earl B. McCarey, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. McCarey, formerly of Antigo, but now of Chicago, was killed early Saturday morning when struck by a freight train in the Belwood yards of the Chicago and Northwestern at Chicago. Daniel Jamieson, a companion, received such serious injuries as to cause his death sometime afterward. The train which killed the two was not stopped, the engineer being apparently unaware of the accident and the bodies were found by the crew of a following train. Young McCarey was employed by the railway as yard clerk and Jamieson was a watchmaster.

Earl McCarey is a graduate of the Antigo High school with the class of 1912. He attended Northwestern University last year taking up the medical course. Only a short time ago he started working for the Northwestern railway intending to follow it up during his summer vacation.

Earl was a bright young man whose energy, determination and ability would have counted much in making his career a successful one. He was very popular among young and old; his personality, courtesy and good nature winning the friendship of all. His father, mother, sister, and a brother, Dr. Arthur McCarey, survive him.

START STOCK RANCH

Minnesota Man Purchases Seven Forties South Of Prentice

C. G. Nelson, who has one of the best farms in this vicinity and is a large owner of lands in this vicinity, closed a deal the first of the week for the sale of seven forties of land southwest of the city to Louis Austin of Kokato, Minnesota.

Mr. Austin will, during the coming summer, open up a considerable acreage, and go extensively into dairying. It is expected that he will start in with from thirty to forty pure bred Holsteins.—Prentice News.

The region referred to was but recently unsettled and assessable for only a minimum amount; now there are farming neighborhoods with valuable farms and stock. In a few years these farms will be worth double their present value. And so it goes all over the north country—yet people will say that the state is not interested in development.

Tomahawk—

Plans for enlarging the plant of the shoe factory started in this city April last by J. W. Quance were perfected this week when the Tomahawk Shoe company was incorporated with a capital stock of $20,000. The new company will manufacture a line of ladies' foot wear and will give employment to about 65 people. New machinery needed has been ordered and it is the expectations to have the factory in full operation on its new line by September 1.

Ashland—

The ore shipments from the port of Ashland this season have been gradually increasing and up to July 1, 1,509,702 tons of ore had been shipped from the local docks which means an increase of 166,901 tons over last year's shipments to the same date. The increase in ore shipments on the lakes last month over the corresponding month of last year were 496,789 tons.

Ironwood—

Mrs. Minnie Ekman, who confessed to the murder of her daughter in Salt Lake City, is a former resident of Ironwood and a daughter of Rev. John Lukkoner, at one time pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church here. Mrs. Ekman told the Salt Lake City police that she put her daughter to death with drugs, packed the body in a trunk and shipped it to Orem, Utah. Charles Anderson, with whom she had planned to elope, is also under arrest, charged with being an accomplice of Mrs. Ekman in committing the horrible crime.

Crandon—

When the funeral party bearing the body of Gies Polar arrived at the Crandon cemetery it was discovered that the grave had been dug only about one foot deep and it was necessary to postpone the burial until the mourners could complete the work. It developed later that the men hired to dig the grave had made too many trips to a nearby saloon and were put out of commission. Polar was an Indian who died from burns received when he came in too close contact with his camp fire about three weeks ago.

Superior—

Forty-six persons, men and young girls, were taken into custody Sunday by the police in raids conducted on alleged immoral resorts under the guise of hotels outside the segregated district. This action was the culmination of an agitation made the basis of a recall campaign directed by the Socialists against Mayor Joseph Kockel, first executive under the commission form of government.

Gladstone—

"Place $400 near the Gladstone bluff tonight or you will be dead inside of twenty-four hours." The foregoing letter signed "Black Hand" with a rude illustration of a revolver beneath the signature caused Meyer Jacobs, a Gladstone business man to notify the authorities. The officers spent the night secreted at Gladstone bluff but did not capture the writer of the letter.

MAY SUE CIRCUS

It is intimated that relatives of Ed. Ryan, the circus employee who was killed by a train near Three Lakes several days ago, are considering action against the management of the Sparks Shows for Ryan's death. It is believed that the man either rolled off or was pushed off the circus train while it was in motion. The Sparks people, it is understood, claim that Ryan was not an employee of the show at the time he was killed but had been discharged two days before.

Miss Marie Ely returned to Chicago Saturday.

FINDS INSANE MAN

While cruising in the woods near Atkins, Wednesday morning, Guy Morrill of Rhineland found a man whose name is given as Arthur Schring, roaming aimlessly about, naked and half starved. He took the man to Hills, where he was provided for. Later Schring was brought to this city and lodged in the county jail. He was there examined by Dr. J. A. Diamond and adjudged insane. On Thursday morning he was taken to the hospital for the insane at Oshkosh. He was in charge of U. S. Sheriff White and Arthur Tracy.—Crandon Echo.

PRIVATE CAR BURNS

The private car of Manager Sparks of the John H. Sparks circus which showed here July 5, was gutted by fire last week while the car was enroute from Oconto to Munising, Mich. The performers and musicians escaped in their night clothes. The damage is estimated at $10,000. Besides the car which was totally destroyed, he lost many valuable papers, a $500 diamond stud, and a sum of money. After the fire Mr. Sparks left for Chicago to purchase another sleeper.

FLASHES FROM THE HEADLIGHT

Bits of News Pertaining To The Soo and Northwestern Railroads

The so called full crew law, which has been opposed so bitterly by the railroads, went into effect throughout Missouri Monday. The law provides that an additional brakeman shall be placed on every freight train made up of more than 40 cars and that there shall be an additional brakeman on all passenger trains. It is understood that all the roads affected are planning to join in concerted action to test the constitutionality of the law, possibly by inviting prosecution under the penalty provided for its violation. The law is intended to insure the safety of the traveling public, but the railroads maintain that there are no duties for the extra men to perform and that the only effect of the law will be to largely increase the expenses of train operation.

The Wisconsin state board of health is entering upon the work of inspecting water supplies used on railroad trains. Co-operating with the federal authorities, the board will endeavor to secure the aid of all railroads doing an interstate business in enforcing regulations of this character. Only interstate trains are affected by the rules. This makes it necessary for railroad companies operating interstate to secure from all state and municipal health officials within whose jurisdiction they operate a certification as to the purity of water and ice supplies used by them. Not only must the water be pure but the ke used for cooling it must be certified by the health authorities. It must be washed and handled in a sanitary manner. The water containers must be cleaned and thoroughly scalded with live steam at least once a week. The Association of Railroad Chief Surgeons is behind this movement.

WEEKLY COLUMN FOR THE FARMERS

Timely Article From The Pen
Of E. L. Luther, County
Representative

As the result of instruction in the Oneida County Teachers' Training School, this is about the program which may be carried out for the present during the year in the rural schools:

September: Organize a boys' and girls' potato club and prepare for a potato judging evening for some evening the second week of school. Instruct in selecting and storing potatoes for seed. Instruct in selecting, curing and storing seed corn. This work should be done early at the opening of school as corn harvesting and potato digging will be in progress. Seeds of the most common weeds of field and garden should be collected, examined and identified and samples saved and marked.

October: Weed study and collection of weed seeds. Continue study of potato and have a potato identification evening.

November: Study rations for cattle, balancing rations, and start milk testing. Care of live stock in winter.

December: Test milk and work with the milk scales and the milk sheet.

January: Study milk and teach how to produce clean milk and the importance of doing so.

February: Identification and testing of commercial grains for purity: wheat, oats, rye, barley, clover, timothy, alfalfa and alsike.

March: Corn judging and testing and testing farm seeds for germination.

April: Teach how to plant corn and potatoes and the cultivation of these crops.

May: Boys' and girls' potato club members will plant potatoes and Wisconsin No. 8 corn for premiums at county fair.

Teachers are shown how to collect bulletins on which to base this work and many of the bulletins are collected. The equipment of a school to do all of this work need not cost more than $10. The Babcock test will cost about $5. The milk scales about $3. Two or three small magnifying glasses will cost about $1.50. Other equipment is easily picked up about farm homes.

The above program does not cover work in all that goes on on farms in Oneida county. But it is a beginning and the work is all capable of actually being done in the schools. It is not work that is done by simply memorizing pages of the textbook. It is work which in the doing will find a real foundation in helping the farmer. For instance, milk is tested for farmers. Clover seed is tested for purity and germination for farmers. The potato judging and potato identification evenings are community gatherings. These will lead to other gatherings of similar nature. The above course is practical and is not hit-and-miss. It is rough work is done with each subject taken up to be worth while. This work done in the rural schools will make the schools of real service to the farmers and work in school which finds a real use is the kind of work that educates children fastest and best.

If farmers have not got much out of the schools thus far for their money, it is up to them now to commence to make use of the schools. They should ask the school to test milk and seeds. Farmers should no longer sow seed instead of clover and dead seed instead of live seed. Boys and girls taught in this fundamental work may become of utmost value to the farms. This coming year the farmers ought to use the schools.

ONEIDA COUNTY CROPS

Donald Reed, son of S. L. Reed, who recently purchased the Papineau farm in Pine Lake, returned from a visit in Oshkosh and his old home in Hortonville, Monday.

Donald says that crops in that part of the state are no further advanced and look no better than those in Oneida county. In fact potatoes here are making a superior showing.

After spending a number of days at his old stamping grounds Donald returns to Oneida county with the firm conviction that it is one of the best farming sections in the state.

HARSHAW GRANGE CELEBRATES

Farmers Have A Glorious Time On Fourth Of July

The following account of the 4th of July celebration held under the auspices of Harshaw Grange was received last week too late for publication.

With the view of giving their wives, children, and friends a royal time, of feasts and members of the Harshaw Grange arranged a fitting celebration of the 4th at Oneida Lake. Permission had been given by E. M. McKiver for the free use of his cottages, grounds and all necessary utensils and conveniences. Scores of people began to arrive early in the morning, and before the day was over more than 100 people were on the grounds enjoying themselves. The committee in charge of amusements consisting of Messrs. Wincle, Gooder, Thomsen, Dahl, Loomis, Yelton, and Moffitt, had arranged a fine program which was opened by singing the "Star Spangled Banner." Instrumental music was discoursed at various intervals during the day. For diversions there was a boat parade with fifteen boats all decorated with the stars and stripes, horse races, boat races, swimming contests, and running. The music committee consisting of Messdames Thomsen and Frie, Erickson, and Messrs. Michael Dahl and John Gooden delighted the people with the selections of music on the piano, violin, and organ. In the afternoon there was free distribution of peanuts and ice cream, the children, especially being amused by the dress rig and funny stunts of Mr. F. Dalke who distributed the peanuts. The celebration closed with a dance held in the large cottage of Mr. E. M. McKiver. It was the most successful celebration ever held here and remarkable in that it was free from all intoxicating beverages. Everybody is loud in praise of the excellent time had by Mr. John Gooden, superintendent of Oneida Farms, was untiring in his efforts to help everybody have a good time.

Did President Wilson know what he was stirring up when he asked for an investigation of the lobby? No matter whether he did or not the American people owe him a debt of gratitude.

The Stevens-Whiteside forestry bill, which was passed last week, had to be returned to the Senate to be re-passed because it carried an appropriation with it which was not legally voted upon. The bill has now been legally passed and the next step is to secure a suitable committee to investigate forestry in northern Wisconsin counties for the next two years.

Much criticism has been aimed at Secretary Bryan because he is to lecture a short time. We believe Mr. Bryan has the right to use his vacation as he pleases. We agree with him that his lectures are wholesome, patriotic and inspiring for the common people. We have little respect for any resolutions aimed at the Secretary because he is to earn money lecturing during his regular vacation period.

It is our aim to encourage every industry. However, we will not whitewash the crooked deals of an industry simply because it is local. We have always been outspoken and straight forward with the common people and intend to continue on this line. A big business should have the same open criticism for dishonest and corrupt methods that a small one should. We believe in encouraging home industry but on a straight forward basis.

The $122 remaining in the treasury of the July 4th committee will be used to purchase new uniforms for the members of the Military band, according to the statement of Louis Danner, manager. The band is entitled to this consideration in return for the delightful public concerts which the organization is giving this summer.

THERE ARE REASONS

Why does Wisconsin grow larger crops on the average than other states?

Why does Wisconsin sell more high priced seed grains than all other states combined?

Why has Wisconsin more dairy cows than any other state?

Why is the dairy industry increasing in Wisconsin faster than in any other state?

Why does Wisconsin capture more prizes in national contests than any other state?

Why did upper Wisconsin take the world's championship award on alfalfa at the last world-wide contest?

Why are the pea canning concerns placing early all the new factories in upper Wisconsin?

Why are the beet sugar factories looking to upper Wisconsin for increased product?

Why are so many pickle factories and salting works being located in the upper Wisconsin counties?

Why are several of the world's largest manufacturing creameries in the upper Wisconsin counties?

Why does the best clover seed come from upper Wisconsin?

Why are the pastures good in upper Wisconsin when dried out elsewhere?

THE GETTYSBURG REUNION

The reunion of the blue and the gray at Gettysburg is now over and what a most wonderful event it was! No other such event took place in any nation before and very likely never will. The meeting on the field, as brothers of the blue and the gray, the intermingling of the stars and bars and the stars and stripes, the repetition of "Pickett's Charge" and the other events of the great reunion make it one never to be forgotten. Many of the participants were able to recognize the places where they fought, and others where they were forced to retreat and when at the close of the "charge" of "Pickett's men" they were received by handshakes and cheers by their former foes, and the playing of "Dixie" by the assembled bands, it settled once for all the question of sectional differences.

But over and above all the pleasant incidents of the reunion there remains a lesson for the country to take to heart; a lesson that must be learned by the younger generation, and that is the fact that we are still the trustees of human liberty in this country and of the nations of the world. Are we upholding the dignity and the power of that government that these old soldiers of the Blue fought so hard to save? Are we supporting policies and principles that will result in the greatest good to the greatest number of our citizens? Are we doing our part to see that honesty prevails in public affairs and that the government is not being ruined by an insidious enemy from within?

If this reunion of the immortal battlefield shall only result in bringing to the hearts and minds of the citizenship of this country the facts and issues upon which our happiness and prosperity depend today then we may indeed be convinced that it has been a great success and we may then confidently feel that from that battle of fifty years ago this nation did have "a new birth of freedom" and that "government of the people, by the people and for the people" shall not perish from the earth."

EXPOSING LITTLEFIELD

The investigation of the corruption of congress by the National Association of Manufacturers still continues. This week Judge Jenkins' name is having a rest and Ex-Congressman Littlefield's record is being analyzed. When it is known what the gang was willing to pay for Littlefield's reelection, it is evident enough that he was a tool of the big interests. The following is Mulhall's account of Littlefield's reelection in 1910:

To Save Littlefield

That the National Association of Manufacturers spent $50,000 in 1910 to save Congressman Littlefield Maine, from defeat was declared by Col. Mulhall Monday, accompanying the declaration by identifying many letters written during that sensational campaign. Littlefield, according to Mulhall, was opposed by union labor because of his stand against anti-injunction and other laws demanded by the union leaders, and the fight was deemed of national importance as measuring the relative political power of the manufacturers as opposed to the labor interests. The manufacturers won by a plurality of 1,500.

President Roosevelt went into the district on Littlefield's side, as did also Secretary of War Taft. Congressman Sherman, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, gave aid. In this fight as in many others, there was close association and unity of action between the manufacturers and the Republican organization.

Got Democrats Drunk

Mulhall testified that his work was to keep the labor vote away from the polls if it could not be landed for Littlefield. Mulhall posed as a friend of labor, as the head of the Workmen's Protective association but that his efforts were put forth to get votes for Littlefield and keep Democratic voters away from the polls. This was done by buying of votes for Littlefield, he said, and by putting out money that went to ply Democratic voters with whisky and get them so drunk that they did not vote for Littlefield's opponent ex-Congressman McGillicuddy.

Mr. Littlefield is well known in this city. One by one the corruption of the old bunch is being exposed.

OIL DEPARTMENT IS MONEY MAKER

Turns Over Nearly $38,000 To The Funds Of State Treasurer

Following the close of the fiscal year, the state oil inspection department has turned into the State Treasury the sum of $37,932.26. This amount, which is the largest that has ever been turned in by the department, represents the amount by which the inspection fees paid by the oil companies have exceeded the salaries and other expenses of the department during the past year.

"The saving of this amount, which is more than enough to have paid the combined cost of the Governor's office, the Civil Service commission and the State Board of taxation in 1912, is my answer to the claim that this department could be more economically conducted if combined with another," said State Oil Inspector Louis F. Meyer. "During the past ten years the annual amount turned into the treasury by this department has increased 274 per cent; the work and receipts of the department have increased 195 per cent, while the cost has increased but 126 per cent."

"Ten years ago the department spent seventy-four cents out of every dollar of inspection fees collected; five years ago it spent seventy-nine cents per dollar, while last year we spent but fifty-seven cents per dollar. Here is a saving of seventeen per cent in cost of administration over ten years ago and of twenty-two per cent over five years ago."

"Senator LaFollette, in a message to the legislature in 1905, called attention to the fact that the department had saved $27,000.00 during the preceding four years, and said 'The saving of this sum to the people of this state carries its own approval of the law.' Today we save almost half again as much in one year as they did then in four. At the same time we employ eight less deputies although the work has increased three fold."

Were the oil department to be combined with another as has been proposed the annual surplus of almost $38,000.00 would be diverted from the treasury, where it now operates to reduce state taxes, and used to pay the expenses of the other department, Mr. Meyer said. For this reason he objected as a taxpayer to any proposed combination.

THE NEW TARIFF

The U. S. Senate is still working on the tariff at Washington. We hope it will be ground out and the provisions will be made public before its passage. The special interests have succeeded in getting jokers in every tariff for years. We do hope this will be an exception. Much speculation has been rife as to what stand Senator LaFollette will take on this tariff on final vote. We hope he will vote as his conscience dictates, irrespective of his political future. It is a better tariff than the Payne-McCullough bill—and it would be difficult to be worse—we hope the senator will support it.

We believe this is the attitude of the progressives of this state. Senator LaFollette should think twice before voting against this bill in final passage.

BEARS CHARMED LIFE

One night recently a homeless individual who had had a losing encounter with John Barleycorn, cast himself down to sleep off in the cinder pit in the Soo railway yards. While he was thus comfortably reposing a huge locomotive emptied its ash pan full of live coals into the pit. The luckless sleeper's clothing became ignited and before the fire could be extinguished he was rather painfully burned. The round house men played the hose on him to such an extent that he narrowly escaped drowning. Later in order to dry his clothes, the wanderer crept under the boiler of a locomotive which was standing on a side track. Just as the engine was about to start the crew noticed the fellow and pulled him to a place of safety. Three close calls from death in one night is nothing some.

Returned From the Dead

By E. D. LEONARD

"Your father is dead."

The announcement was made at 10 o'clock at night to Albert Huntington, a young man who stood in the room where physicians had been attending a dying patient. The son covered his face with his hands as if to shut out a realization of his bereavement. Then, suddenly taking them away, he said: "Why could he not have lived two hours longer?"

"What purpose would his living those two hours have served?" asked Dr. Pulsifer.

"I cannot explain to you without entering into a long series of legal technicalities. But I can say briefly that my father's estate will pass into the hands of a guardian for me, which will involve endless litigation. Tomorrow will be my birthday. At 12 midnight I will be legally of age and could enter upon the administration of my inheritance myself."

The doctor made no reply. He seemed lost in thought. Then he drew the other physicians into a consultation in low tones and in a few minutes returned to the young man and said: "Send for your notary."

"He is waiting below."

"Very well. You have heard of the recent discoveries, I suppose, in reference to what we call death—that when a man is pronounced dead and is what we have always supposed to be dead he is not dead. He is like a man unconscious under water. If he is permitted to remain there he eventually rots. If he is drawn above the surface he may be resuscitated. Your father may be brought back to life and possibly held there till after midnight."

"Do you mean it?"

"I do. At any rate, I and my colleagues are willing to make the experiment. But to take advantage of our efforts if we succeed you should have witnesses here to testify that the patient lived the day you became of age."

"Doctor," exclaimed the young man, grasping the physician's hand, "if you do this you will make a friend of me so long as I live. There is a reason why I am so anxious in the matter that I have not yet given you. A marriage was arranged by my father and the parents of a girl I love that by the terms of his will is indirectly dependent upon my coming of age and inheriting as a man instead of a minor. By prolonging my father's life two hours you will not only save my estate from being decimated under an expensive lawsuit, but you will unite a pair of lovers."

While this dialogue was going on the assistant doctors were administering a hypodermic injection. Dr. Pulsifer while waiting for the effect occupied the attention of young Huntington, commenting upon the discoveries on which the expected result was based.

"It has been shown," he said, "that every function of life except consciousness may be kept up after death. We hope to show that your father performs those functions. If his heart beats and he breathes he is, in the eye of the law, alive. Experimenters have not yet reached a point where consciousness may be restored. But it is not unlikely that result may be attained."

One of the assistant physicians, who had his ear on the dead man's chest, announced to Dr. Pulsifer that the heart beat faintly and asked if he should administer another injection. Dr. Pulsifer looked at his watch and saw that there still remained an hour and ten minutes to midnight. "Wait twenty minutes," he said, "unless the heart beats cease."

"Doctor," said young Huntington, "may I announce what you are doing to those waiting below?"

"I would advise you to say nothing."

"I may at least give hope to the girl whom I love and who loves me. May I not?"

"Yes, but I would only give hope. I would not explain the matter to her."

Huntington ran downstairs, and when he returned a second hypodermic injection was being given to the dead man. In ten minutes the physician, who had administered it and who sat beside the bed holding the wrist, announced that he could feel a slight pulsation and, placing his ear on the left breast, found quite a strong beat. Dr. Pulsifer took up a hand mirror, held it over the nostrils, examined it, touching it here and there with a cambric handkerchief, and announced that there was a slight moisture on it. This meant that breathing had recommenced.

Huntington ran downstairs again and told his fiancée that his father was better, kissed her and ran back into the room where his father lay.

At 11:40 by the clock the patient's heart was beating with considerable strength, and his chest was rising and falling perceptibly. At 11:53 a last hypodermic was administered, and at 12:05 it was announced to those below that the patient had not long to live, and they were asked to go to the chamber where he lay. Dr. Pulsifer stood with his watch in his hand and pointed to the patient. Several persons examined his heart and took note of his breathing. The lovers stood together, the girl's arm within that of her fiancé, looking on with awe. At 12:15 Dr. Pulsifer made an examination of the patient and pronounced him dead. The notary looked at his watch and took a deposition from every one present that the exact hour of death was 12:15.

LIFE IN SWEDEN

Next Sunday evening at the Swedish Lutheran church Dr. Karl A. Hillander, head of the department of Swedish Language and Literature at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter's Minn., will give a stereopticon lecture entitled "Swedish and Finnish Customs and Life." The lecture will be in the Swedish language although each picture will be explained in English for the benefit of those who cannot understand Swedish. About 175 views will be shown.

Dr. Hillander will also occupy the pulpit at the Swedish Lutheran church at the Sunday morning service.

WILLIAM PRICE MARRIES

The marriage of Miss Rose Simmonds of Appleton to Wm. Price of Eagle River was solemnized at the bride's home Sunday July 6. Following the ceremony the couple spent a few days with Rhinelander relatives, and then continued to Eagle River where they will make their future home.—Vilas County News.

THIS IS A BEAR STORY

Henry Schroeder, employed at Brown Brothers' camp 7 near Bundy, recently killed a large black bear that weighed 340 pounds.

The animal was dressed and hung from a tree near the camp. Next morning the carcass had vanished. It is believed by the woods boys that the dead bear's mate came during the night and carried off the remains of its partner.

YOUNG MAN INSANE

A young man named Hill was committed to the Northern Asylum for the Insane at Winnebago, Monday by H. F. Steele, county judge.

Hill was arrested at the Hotel Alpine Saturday night by Chief Straub and Officers Sheperd and O'Brien. He had showed signs of mental trouble for several days and when taken into custody was in a serious condition. Under-sheriff Crofoot took Hill to the asylum.

Chinese Paper Money.

Paper money is said to have had its origin in China in the year 805, when the government issued it to relieve a financial stringency, receiving coin in return, which enabled it to pay off outstanding obligations. In the museum of St. John's college in Shanghai is a paper bill worth 1,000 cash, the equivalent of 50 cents American money, which was issued by the first Ming Emperor (Hung-su A. D. 1368-1399). It is nearly two feet long and one foot wide, printed on mulberry bark paper, and is a dark slate color.—Argonaut.

Austrian Girls to Learn to Cook.

Cookery had never been taught in Austrian schools until last September, when the minister of education added it to the curriculum of all girls' schools under his control, both elementary and advanced. He further stipulated that any girl taking up modern languages or other extra subjects shall be compelled to include cookery in her school course. In order to carry out the innovation as cheaply as possible, restaurants are run in connection with the larger schools in populous centers.

Nature's Method of Protection.

There have been brought to light an astonishing number of forms of fish, and especially of prawns of a brilliantly red color, living in the ocean at a depth of 3,000 feet. But, astonishing as it may seem, these brilliantly colored fish and prawns, instead of being conspicuous in the water at that depth, are nearly invisible, when almost any other color could be easily seen.

A Terrible Custom.

Old customs die very hard in China, and in several parts of the Celestial empire it is still considered a high act of virtue for a woman to publicly commit suicide after the death of her husband. According to the law, the proceeding is actually legal in some provinces, and such is the state of public opinion that in districts where it is officially prohibited the authorities rarely interfere.—The Wide World Magazine.

Care of Shoes.

Evening shoes should be wrapped in tissue paper, and white shoes will turn yellow unless incased in blue paper. On most light shoe leather a spot or stain can be washed off, but where this is impossible or the shoe is too badly soiled it is better to dye it a darker color or black. Various shoe dyes can be purchased and with a renewal of color now and then you have practically provided for yourself a new pair of shoes.

Women's Valuable Thoughts.

Among the first American patents taken out by women were those for a fountain pen, a baby jumper, and the first cook stove. Mrs. Ada Van Felt of late years invented a permutation lock with three thousand combinations. A woman invented a process of making horseshoes which saved the country $25,000,000 in fourteen years. Another woman was ofered $20,000 for her paper bag process.

Why He Was Glad.

The man with the long beard stood pensively at the curbing gazing at the passing traffic in the street. "I hail with delight the advent of the automobile," he muttered aloud, "for no longer need I fear crossing the street lest some hungry horse mistake me for a walking bale of hay."

Health Evangelists Tour State On Motorcycles and Sleep Out Of Doors

A campaign, which for uniqueness and originality as well as effectiveness surpasses anything of its kind yet attempted, is being inaugurated by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association for taking the gospel of sanitation and health to the rural population of the state. During the summer, lectures will be given in the smallest villages and country cross roads and the state placarded with signs calling attention to important rules of right living.

The Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association is the first organization of its kind in the United States to solve the problem of reaching the rural citizens. There is as much consumption, per capita of population, in the country as the city, and a great deal more ignorance concerning it formerly the expense of reaching any considerable number of people in the country made the work prohibitive but an experiment made last summer demonstrated that by the use of a motorcycle almost as many people can be reached in a day as are ordinarily reached in the city.

The summer crusade has been made possible by a gift of two Harley-Davidson motorcycles from a generous supporter of the work. One machine is used in campaigning county boards. Two workers, a lecturer and his assistant, will cover the state on the other. They carry, not only their literature and a stereopticon with curtain for out-of-door illustrated lectures, but also a camping equipment for sleeping out and getting their own meals.

Early morning talks at a creamery and addresses to the noon crowd at the village postoffice are features of the rural work. While the lecturer is thus engaged or is preparing for his illustrated talk in the evening, the assistant works in the surrounding country, tacking up health signs and telling the people he meets on the road of the evening lecture. In the fall talks will be given in rural schools. The campaign is conducted by Mr. Theodore Werle, lecturer of the association, with an assistant, Mr. Wm. White of Milwaukee, and will be continued until late in November.

AROUND THE CIRCLE

Miss Mabel Reader of Antioch has been visiting at the home of Joseph Ledasire for the past week, departing for her home the first of the week.

Mrs. Wm. Hahn has been in the city a few days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Smith.

Mrs. Louis Haas was taken worse and was taken to the hospital the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skubal and daughter drove to their farm in the town of Crescent, Tuesday.

The Pelican and Crescent ball teams crossed bats on the Cuenan diamond Sunday with a result of 3 to 10 in favor of the latter. The strong left swing of Seely kept the Crescent aggregation guessing while he fanned out 13 men against 19 and two pitchers.

The large hay barn of John Vieux is nearing completion under the efficient management of Jake Hartman in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cole drove to the city Monday via the river road. Mrs. Fred Black called upon her numerous friends in the city Tuesday and also did some shopping.

Editor Anderson of the Northern Citizen, North Crandon's newsy little paper, was in the city Wednesday. He is a brother of Douglas Anderson, present assemblyman from this district.

CAMP 7 BREAKS UP

Brown Brothers' camp 7 near Luney, ceased operations Tuesday. This camp was in charge of Gust Friday and the crew numbered about twenty-five men. They were engaged in loading out the logs which were cut last winter. 32,000 feet were loaded daily or a total of 3,027,000 feet. Mr. Friday and his crew, which consisted of Billy Hamby, Billy Cashulett, H. Schroeder, Tom McGuire, Fritz Pickard and many other well known woodsmen, arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon.

A party of prominent Northwestern railway officials traveled over the Ashland division in a special train a few days ago on a tour of inspection.

WILL BOARDMAN RESIGN?

Rumor That Adjutant General Will Leave State Militia

There is a report on good authority that Adj. General Charles H. Boardman, of the Wisconsin National Guard, will announce his resignation at the close of the present National Guard Encampment at Camp Douglas. It is believed that the resignation will come today as the General has requested that all officers of the state militia be at Camp Douglas Thursday as he has an important announcement to make to them. The reason for the rumored resignation is not known.

General Boardman's home is in Ash Park. For years he was a printer and publisher and still retains business interests there. He was appointed adjutant general by Governor La Follette and continued in office under Davidson and McGovern. The rumor of his intended resignation has caused regret among the members of Company I in this city as he was popular among the guardsmen, both privates and officers.

WEEKLY LETTER FROM MADISON

Doings Of State Legislature As Told By Our Special Correspondent

Shall the progressives accept the ultimatum of the water power lobby and pass its bill, of which such an acknowledged expert authority as Louis D. Brandeis said emphatically "That is a bad bill," or shall the progressives pass a bill that is fair to the owners of water power sites and at the same time safeguards the public interest?

Lobby Seeks Eleventh Hour Rescue

This lobby does not talk about substantial justice or of any real pecuniary loss that will occur to riparian owners by the conservation committee's bill, but it talks only law, and the loss of a legal advantage over the public gained without the public's knowledge, and resulting great speculative valuation. But even this slender legal thread, woven in an unconscionable transaction, is almost, if not entirely severed by the recent decision of the United States supreme court, and the water power men are desperately endeavoring to have woven a new rope of law to take its place. To conceal its fears of the early final parting of this old legal thread, the water power lobby insists that its strands are stronger than ever.

Plead the Law of Centuries Ago

This thread is a technicality of the old common law which they claim vested in the public the ownership only of such tidal waters as were necessary for navigation. This provision of the common law was based on the public policy of public use of running water vesting in the public. When the common law was formed in England the only public use of navigable tidal waters was the use of navigation.

U. S. Supreme Court Disagrees

The supreme court of the United States, however, in the recently decided Dunbar case, says: "Whatever substantial private property rights exist in the flow of the stream must come from sole right which that company has to construct and maintain such works in the river, such as dams, walls dikes, etc., essential to the utilization of the power of the stream for commercial purposes."

The right to construct such works can come only by grant from the public. It says that any right that the riparian owner has in the flow of a stream must come from a right that is granted to him by the state. Without this right the riparian owner, has no water power value. When the state gives him the grant, it gives him the water power value.

Minimum Wage For Women

The minimum wage bill for women has finally passed both houses.

Land Mortgage Bank

The legislature has passed a bill allowing owners of lands to pool their lands and issue bonds against them to provide funds for a bank to loan money to develop unimproved lands. This bill is in the interests of the development of northern Wisconsin.

halt Buying Forestry Lands

The Whiteside bill which provides for a soil survey and a legislative investigation of the forest reserve region and prohibits the buying of any more land for the state forest reserve for the next two years has passed both houses.

Farm Loan Department

Under a bill recently passed the state land commissioners can loan the state school moneys upon farm lands at five per cent for a period of twenty years on first mortgage. Application for loans is to be made at the office of the local county clerk. Liberal terms are given for payment.

Corn Syrup Loses Again

The corn syrup people lost their fight for the defeat of the Embury bill providing that the packages must be labeled with the names and percentages of all ingredients.

State Aid To High Schools

The bill increasing state aid to high schools having courses in domestic science, manual training, or agriculture, from $30,000 to $75,000 a year, has passed both houses. Teacher's training courses in high schools are given $25,000.

Tubercular Camp

Under a bill recently passed the state board of control is authorized to establish a camp for tubercular patients upon the forest reserve and provide for their maintenance at not to exceed $3.50 per week. The college of agriculture is authorized to instruct the patients in the art of farming.

RELIABLE MARKET REPORTS

Nothing gives a newspaper a firmer place in public confidence than a well established reputation for accurate and complete reports of the world's markets. Business men throughout the West have long esteemed The Chicago Record-Herald for the uniformity trustworthy way in which it covers the whole field of financial and commercial news. Whether you want to know what corn sells for in London or what railroad stocks are quoted at in New York, what price corn is bringing in Kansas City or how wheat is selling at Minneapolis or Chicago, you can always turn to the financial and commercial pages of the Record-Herald with the certainty of getting the latest facts in full and unbiased form.

The men who write the local live stock, board of trade and financial news for The Record-Herald are experienced staff editors whose years of trusted acquaintance with leading men often give them inside tips on important news in advance of other papers. The only morning newspaper in Chicago having its own special correspondent to cover the New York stock market is The Record-Herald. George S. Beach's daily telegraphic reports from the stock and money markets of Wall street are models of insight and accuracy. The Record-Herald makes it a point to cover in full the financial reports of corporations and the banking activities of Chicago and the West. The "Speculative Gossip" and notes of Wall street and LaSalle street happenings are valued by the largest brokers for their glimpses of real "inside history" of the various markets.

SURPRISE THEIR FRIENDS

Miss Martha Tegatz and Edward Boyce Quietly Marry

Edward Boyce and his bride, who was formerly Miss Martha Tegatz, returned Saturday from a short sojourn at Lake George and are comfortably settled in their home on Arbutus street.

The wedding of Miss Tegatz and Mr. Boyce came as a surprise to their host of friends in this city. Tuesday afternoon, July 8, they gave the impression that they were going to attend the circus but instead sought Rev. John De Jung, of the German Lutheran church, who quietly married them. Miss Gusta Tegatz and Fred Tegatz, sister and brother of the bride, were the attendants. The bride is one of Rhinelander's charming and accomplished young ladies. She is a graduate of the Rhinelander High school and until last June taught in the schools of Oneida county. She is a favorite among all who know her.

Mr. Boyce is a young man whose good qualities are many. He is ambitious and industrious and commands the respect of his associates. He holds a responsible position with the Rhinelander Lighting company. That Mr. and Mrs. Boyce may have a long and happy voyage down life's stream is the earnest wish of their friends.

SVINGALI AND HELENA

Svinzali and Madam Helena at the Majestic theater this week have been giving marvelous exhibitions of mind reading and fortune telling. Madam Helena while in a state of hypnosis, placed by Svinzali, performs any test or answers any question asked her by people in the audience. Her work is astounding. She is by far the most wonderful seeress and foresight seer ever in this city.

A Waupaca man has invented a potato bug catcher which is said to be a success. It is worked by a small gasoline engine drawn by a pair of horses and consists of a sort of a suction fan. This is driven through the field of potatoes, covering four or six rows and the machine sucks every bug off the vines. The fellow may be able to suck up the baby bugs with his machine without smashing the crop, but the old shell-backs will hang on until they pull up the vines, potatoes and all.—Wausau Pilot.

unfolding and hoisted to the breezes a beautiful large design of stars and stripes and planted the same on the very top of the New Hotel "Lauralton" and breaking a bottle of field he proclaimed that the new structure shall henceforth be known as the "Hotel Lauralton." Mr. Surplus performed his part well and the many who were present at the occasion say that ceremonies were

SAVED FROM A WATERY GRAVE

At precisely 8:35 last Sunday evening Rev. Seldon and wife and a lady guest had a very close call from being drowned in Big Fork Lake; had it not been for the timely arrival of Mr. Frank who is located on the same lake the trio would never have been recovered a live.

The three in question were out in a canoe about 200 feet from shore.
When suddenly the canoe began to get uneasy and the occupants in trying to steady the canoe failed and the canoe upset and spilt its occupants into 26 feet of water. None were expert swimmers, however they managed to keep close near the canoe, all three went down to the bottom several times. But good fortune was with them. Mr. Frank accompanied by his wife were out pleasure riding in their launch, and on hearing the cries for help made their way towards the ill-fated canoe as they reached the canoe all three of the water victims were just about to give up hopes and disappear on their final descent. Mr. Frank realizing the dangerous situation, grabbed Mr. Seldon by the hair and dragged him to his boat; with the other hand he caught the visiting lady just as she was going down; Mrs. Seldon was no where to be seen; however with presence of mind Mr. Frank ran his paddle under the upset canoe and to his astonishment, Mrs. Seldon, who was hanging on the bottom of the upset canoe, caught the ore and clung to it and her head was brought above water; Mr. Frank then held all three above the water and ordered Mrs. Frank to paddle the launch to shore which she performed very bravely. When the shore was reached the three victims were promptly placed in the hands of Dr.
Morse, who was assisted by the friend present, worked faithfully and finally succeeded in bringing the three people to consciousness again. It took nearly three hours to bring them out of danger. Had it not been for Mr. Frank hearing the first distress signal, the three in question would never have been brought to shore alive.

This ought to be a warning to the many during canoists that a canoe is a most dangerous plaything, especially so for those who are unable to swim.

FOR NEW RESORT

The general business car of the superintendent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Ry., was set out at Three Lakes on Tuesday. The party comes here to enjoy a short time on our chain of lakes. This goes to show that our chain is beginning to be known to the outsiders. We venture to say that within five years time a large official railroad men's resort will be seen on Grave's Point on Planting Ground lake. It certainly would be an ideal location for about a $75,000 resort. All that is necessary is to get a live wire official to take the matter up with the Leads of the various railroad companies and they could be induced to form a stock company in a very short time. It certainly would be an ideal place to have all the officials of the different roads gather here for a rest—and pleasure.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE DEPARTMENT

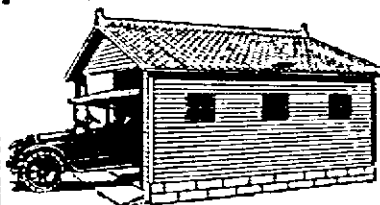

Edited by Florence McRae and Una Reardon, Members of the Press Committee of the E. S. L.

The following is an item of interest for the person who still questions the probable good influence to be derived from the co-operation of women in municipal affairs.

Mrs. William B. Ower, President of the federation for a clean Chicago says:

One great result of the right to vote is the awakening interest of a great number of women in civic affairs. Inquiries are being made everywhere as to the methods of administration of the city.

A sense of responsibility for the cleanliness of the neighborhoods in which they live is noticeable among all classes of women. Formerly the question of whether the city was clean or not was discussed in a spirit of criticism. City officials were found fault with for inefficiency where the householder was really to blame for the unsanitary state of the alleys.

Ignorance of conditions at the city hall was responsible for some of the criticism, ignorance of the city or distances was responsible for more.
Of course, no one will deny that there is incompetency in the department of public works as there is in every other public or private business. As long as our government is partisan and we have to depend on unskilled labor inefficiency is inevitable.

Women having to do the housekeeping of the city, both public and private, will prove very effectual in keeping the city clean.

Already women are being trained to go out into all sections of the city and teach civic affairs. They will show where private responsibility ends and where the responsibility of the city begins in the war on dirt.
Being trained to see where the fault lies for disorder in their own homes they can lay their finger on the cause of the filth in the city.

By everlasting preaching with the city ordinances which pertain to the responsibility of the householder as a text, public opinion will be brought to the point where a person having a dirty yard will be ashamed, the corporation having a dirty car line will not be tolerated and the man or woman strewing the streets with papers will be fined. The city will be compelled to place receptacles for waste paper at convenient points so that the citizen will not be compell-

MOSQUITO CAUSES DEATH

Up in this neck of the timber where mosquitoes are as large as elephants and travel in swarms of a million or more it would do well for people to take warning from the sad experience of a Keresha woman who was poisoned by a mosquito bite. Her name was Mrs. Adelaide Hawkins and she died in terrible agony.
